"Date"

"NAME OF THE PERSON"

Your face belongs to Wood element. The Wood type is spiritual. He or she is the most honest of the elemental types. Wood people are idealistic, with strong integrity. Wood is associated with the planet Jupiter, the largest in the solar system, just as it is in Western astrology. Its vitality is rising, as the tree rises into the sky. Its fortune is wisdom as it is the element of the sage, the seer, wisewoman and wiseman.

Your forehead is high and broad, your face making an imaginary triangle, which is typical for a Wood face. Because the vitality of Wood is rising, the Wood people push up like a tree from a slender trunk and spread their branches into the sky. They enjoy expansion and soon soar above the mundane, often ending up on a higher plane than others aspire to. The Wood people see farther and in a broader range than others and expand intellectually and spiritually, drawing the rest of the world with them. They seek to learn the secrets of the universe and are often out of this world.

As the fortune of Wood people is wisdom, artists, scientists and thinkers are of this element. You tend to be worldly in non-materialistic matters and may not earn much money, but you are rich in knowledge and understanding.

Your best partner is with Water, who is supportive in many ways, particularly financially. You also pair well with Fire, because the outgoing, extroverted Fire is helped by the inward, intellectual Wood and both gather fuel from the relationship to keep the flame burning. Gold is not a good partner because they tend to think themselves as elite and they fail to appreciate your intellectual efforts.

When we divide the face lengthwise into three parts, each represents a major segment of life. The first part from the hairline to the middle of the eyebrows represents youth, age 14 – 30. The midsection of the face from the middle of the eyebrows to the bottom of the nose represents mid-life, age 31 – 50. The lower part of the face, from the bottom of the nose to the tip of the chin, represents maturity, age 50 and after. You have a very good forehead. It is fairly high and broad, unlined. It is better slightly rounded, as yours is, not flat. This indicates fine intellect, good family background, the chance to get a good education and to form beneficial relationships. Your second part of the face is the shortest. It indicates that you must look for success in the earlier or later period of life. However, your second part is not weak, because your nose is prominent. This gives it some balance. Your third part is balanced with the other zones for a satisfactory and comfortable old age.

Your eyes tell that you are deep, and often inspired, but also good at money matters. You were easily hurt if your dreams were violated, especially in your late thirties when the position points fall in the eyes. After age thirty-five, you became more realistic and also more outgoing.

The nose represents wealth and achievement in career—the ability to find opportunity, to accumulate or waste wealth. Your nose is prominent and it is considered an asset to wealth and success. The root and the bridge of your nose are well formed. It indicates the vitality and good health needed to assure success in life.

The mouth represents the personality. It is associated with the sense of taste, food, speech, expressiveness, smiling, kissing and other pleasures—all indicators of its Yin (emotional) nature. Your mouth tells that you are friendly and manage to achieve a good position in life. You are even tempered and charming. Your right side and the left side are not quite balanced, indicating some aggressiveness.

The chin represents strength. Your chin has a good form and is also prominent. It denotes a strong, healthy life with stamina persisting into maturity.

The long ear lobe adds deep wisdom, a growing philosophy of life and the opportunity for a long, fruitful life. The success is somewhat delayed in achievement, often till the last third of life. But this person gets increasing respect and has influence in the later years, possible becoming the leader of an influential circle of followers, someone who will be quoted, honored and listened to in an old age.

Your laugh lines are long and curve in below the mouth, indicating a long life but possible loneliness at the end. Then again, you don't need to worry that because your long ear lobes compensate this feature.

Even though face reading, physiognomy, has seriously been studied and practiced in China and many other parts of Asia for thousands of years, in the remaining parts of the world it is categorized and should be considered as entertainment. However, millions have found it to reflect the truth in their past, present and future lives. Facereading.cx web site and its face readings provide a medium where our expert face readers practice their craft. All readings and interpretations are opinions solely belonging to the authentic studies of face reading and in no way reflect the views and opinions of the facereading.cx site, Atophill™ / Kanto Productions LLC, or the person doing the reading.
